

The Companies Act 2006

1st October implementations.... It's all part of the service!

On 1st October this year new provisions relating to the formation and management of companies in the United Kingdom will come into force. These provisions are contained in the Companies Act 2006 (the Act) which received Royal Assent in November 2006. The Act has been introduced over a number of months and 1st October marks the date when the final provisions come into force.

With over 30 years experience in assisting professional advisers and company directors alike with company formation services, Kestrian's expertise can be fully relied upon to guide you through the implementation of the Act.

The following provisions, which will come into force on 1st October, have been the subject of particular attention which has involved our close involvement with the Registrar of Companies and Companies House:

- Company formation
- A company's constitution
- A company's capacity
- Company names
- A company's registered office
- Re-registration of companies
- A company's members
- A company's share capital
- Dissolution and restoration to the register
- The Registrar of Companies
- Business names

We're here to help

You may rest assured that the Kestrian Company Services team is fully briefed to advise you on all the relevant changes. Our website and order forms will be fully updated with the implementations and we've included additional notes to assist you to complete and familiarise yourself with the new information required. All this is part of the quality service, speed and efficiency you have come to expect from Kestrian Company Services.

Please note that Companies House will be closed on Thursday 1st October and Friday 2nd October to implement these changes. Companies House will commence processing on Monday 5th October. Formations can still be sent to us on Thursday 1st October and Friday 2nd October but will only be processed on Monday 5th October.
